DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's traversal of the restriction requirement filed February 12, 2007 is acknowledged. It is found persuasive and therefore the restriction mailed May 24, 2006 is withdrawn. The Examiner apologizes for any delay in prosecution.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-6, and 8-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over newly cited Hinshaw (US Patent 3,327,513) in view of previously cited Fencil (US Patent 4,722,216). Hinshaw discloses an apparatus and method for working a tube (20) comprising inserting a mandrel (10) into a blank tube; applying a parallel swaging operation by translating a cylindrical die (34) axially along and relative to the blank tube and the mandrel (Figures 3-5); subsequently withdrawing the cylindrical die from the blank tube, while keeping the mandrel in the blank tube. A tapered surface is formed at an inner edge of a tip end of the blank tube through a cooperative action between the mandrel and the cylindrical die, see Figures 3-5 or 11-13. A reduced thickness portion is formed at a tip end of the blank tube through a cooperative action between the mandrel with a forming surface and the cylindrical die, Column 4, lines 55+.

Art Unit: 3725

A relief portion is formed in an inner surface of the cylindrical die extended circumferentially and has a slightly enlarges inner diameter, see Figures 6 and 7.

Hinshaw discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the push-die. Fencel discloses moving a push-die (20) to the blank tube from a radially outward position to flatten a weld portion on the blank tube in cooperation with the mandrel. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize Fencel's push-die in order to provide control on the outside diameter with precision, Column 3, lines 13-28.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-6, and 8-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
